

HAZARDOUS DISCHARGE SITE REMEDIATION FUND 2020 ANNUAL REPORT

Introduction

The Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF), administered by the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (EDA) and the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) offers assistance to municipalities, counties, redevelopment agencies, businesses, individuals, and non-profit organizations at various stages of the brownfield restoration process, from environmental investigation to cleanup of redevelopment sites.

The HDSRF has been an integral component of this assistance since 1993, helping to transform underutilized and contaminated sites into environmentally sound, productive properties. This is particularly important in the redevelopment of older urban areas so vital to achieving the smart growth objectives of the State's Strategic Plan.

As of December 31, 2020, with the combined anticipated funding of $85.69 million from fiscal years 2015-2021, the HDSRF had available to award $43.66 million ¹. The pipeline of projects that were in process as of January 16, 2021 at the DEP and EDA totaled $39.4 million.

The EDA and the DEP, which jointly administer the program, present the results of activities for calendar year 2020 under the HDSRF in accordance with the reporting requirements of N.J.S.A. 58:10B-6.

Background on the HDSRF

The DEP first reviews applications to determine eligibility, reasonableness of costs, and the scope of work needed to investigate and remediate each site. The EDA manages the HDSRF and makes grants or loans to projects the DEP determines are eligible. Since the program was established, $395.3 million in assistance has been provided to 2,052 projects.²

Under the HDSRF, financial assistance may be provided for preliminary assessments (PA) for onsite inspections and to review historical ownership and site use to determine if contamination may be present at the sites; site investigations (SI) to characterize suspected contamination through preliminary intrusive investigation work; remedial investigations (RI) to determine the extent of contamination present; and remedial action (RA) to effectuate cleanup of impacted portions of the sites.

Municipalities, counties and redevelopment agencies may apply for grants up to $2 million per year for investigation and remediation activities on properties they own or for which they hold a tax sale certificate and have a comprehensive plan or a commitment to develop within three years upon completion of the remediation or demonstrate by resolution or ordinance the intent to acquire by voluntary conveyance.

¹The combined anticipated funding of $85.69 million is comprised of the SFY 15-21 appropriations as shown on Exhibit A - December 31, 2020 Available Cash Report, minus $595,639 transferred out of HDSRF and back to Treasury to fund a disbursement request of an applicant under its Brownfield Site Reimbursement Fund. The $43.66 million available cash is comprised of the combined anticipated funding of $85.69 million minus $42.02 million representing outstanding commitments, undisbursed loans and grants.

² See Exhibit B – "HDSRF Municipal and Commercial Closings Since Inception 1993" Report

Furthermore, an additional $1 million per year is available to municipalities, counties, and redevelopment agencies that contain Brownfield Development Areas (BDAs). The HDSRF program also provides a total amount of $2.5 million in funding to municipalities, counties and redevelopment agencies for recreation and conservation projects, affordable housing projects, and renewable energy projects. RA grants require an either 25% or 50% match of the eligible project costs, depending on the grant type, by the municipality, county or redevelopment agency.

Private parties required to perform remediation activities and individuals who want to conduct such actions voluntarily may qualify for low-interest loans of up to $500,000 per year if they are unable to obtain private funding.

Municipalities that utilize the HDSRF enjoy two significant advantages. First, the remediation and return to productive use of dormant, contaminated properties rids communities of abandoned and, possibly, dangerous sites. Second, once sites are remediated and improved, they can once again provide revenue producing ratable assets for the municipality.

Businesses and private individuals using HDSRF monies to investigate and clean up contaminated properties, such as former gas stations and industrial properties, can enhance the surrounding community by improving the environment and increasing property values while stimulating new investment. Private parties are also eligible for a 25% grant if a project is completed to an unrestricted use remedial action, which is of value to offset costs for remedial activities, such as for home heating oil tanks, that may otherwise be cost prohibitive.

Notably, statutory revisions were recently enacted in 2018 to the Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation program pursuant to P.L. 2017, Chapter 353 (approved January 16, 2018). The amendments reduced grant and loan amounts to eligible public and private entities and eliminated certain grants and loans provided by the HDSRF. A detailed discussion of the amendments is provided in Addendum I “HDSRF History”.

2020 HDSRF Activity

In calendar year 2020, the EDA closed 21 loans and grants amounting to $2.6 million, providing assistance to businesses, private individuals, and municipal governmental entities for the investigation and clean-up of contaminated sites throughout New Jersey.³

The following chart illustrates the allocation of funds for each eligibility category, the amounts assigned by EDA in accordance with statutory authorization, total approvals for the year, and total disbursements.⁴

Note that the 2020 disbursements may exceed 2020 allocations and approvals, which reflect the amount of prior year unexpended allocations for previously approved projects receiving funds in the current reporting year.

ADDENDUM

I. Addendum: HDSRF History

In 1993, the Legislature amended and supplemented P.L. 1983, c.330, formerly known as the “Environmental Cleanup and Responsibility Act” to become the “Industrial Site Recovery Act.” The Legislature sought these changes to promote certainty in the regulatory process that would serve to facilitate the remediation of contaminated sites and promote the redevelopment of existing industrial sites around the State.

In addition to regulatory reform, the Legislature sought to alleviate the financial burdens that have been imposed on individuals, corporations and municipal government entities that have either voluntarily or involuntarily remediated contaminated sites. This assistance came in the form of a $45 million appropriation from the Hazardous Discharge Bond Act of 1986 to a new fund entitled the Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF), which EDA jointly administers with DEP.

The HDSRF received an additional $10 million from the Economic Recovery Fund in its initial capitalization, and in 1997, the Legislature appropriated an additional $20 million from the Hazardous Discharge Bond Act of 1986 to the HDSRF making a total of $75 million available for the remediation of contaminated sites.

The responsibilities associated with administering the HDSRF have been divided between the EDA and the DEP. Initial contact and proposals for funding are made through the DEP, which has streamlined the environmental review process to provide timely approvals. Once environmental approvals and eligible project costs have been determined by the DEP, the applications are forwarded to the EDA so that eligible parties may access the financing available to them through the HDSRF. Upon receiving these applications, the EDA conducts a financial review and forwards them to its Board of Directors with a recommendation for funding. The DEP and EDA have adhered to a strict interpretation of the law in implementing the HDSRF. As a consequence of this interpretation, the HDSRF is truly the last resort to finance potential remediations.

Applicants do not possess insurance and in most cases have little or no collateral to secure loans made by the HDSRF. Under normal circumstances, these applications would not meet the EDA's credit criteria for funding. Each application is reviewed therefore in light of the legislative intent behind the program that dictates to the EDA that these riskier loans should be made for the general public good that will be achieved through such remediations.

In 1997, the Act was amended to create two new eligibility categories that EDA and DEP implemented in early 1998: Category 8 provided matching grants for individuals using innovative technology for remediation; and Category 9 provided matching grants or loan guarantees for persons or businesses that implement limited restricted use or unrestricted use remedial actions. As a result, Category 10 was a “catch all” category, which was formerly Category 8. These new categories were created by allocating 5% each from Category 5 and Category 6.

In 1999, the Legislature revised the qualification for municipalities to receive certain grants for remediation investigations from the HDSRF. As a result, a municipality is required to either have a comprehensive Brownfields redevelopment plan in place, or to demonstrate to the EDA that a property has a realistic opportunity of being developed or redeveloped within three years of the completion of the remediation. In addition, a municipality or the New Jersey Redevelopment Authority is required to actually own the real property prior to receiving a grant for remedial investigation from the HDSRF. Finally, the revisions ensure that a municipality does not spend funds without having made a substantial commitment to the development of the Brownfields site.

In 2003, legislation was enacted dedicating an additional $40 million to aid in replenishing the HDSRF. In addition, New Jersey voters approved a State Constitutional amendment in November 2003 permitting the State to use a surplus in Corporate Business Tax revenues dedicated to the Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Remediation, Upgrade, and Closure (UST) Program to provide a new and reliable long-term funding source for the HDSRF.

In 2005, statutory revisions created new and expanded uses of HDSRF funds for municipalities, counties and redevelopment entities. Specifically, grant funds were authorized for recreation areas, conservation areas and projects involving affordable housing, as well as additional grant funds on a priority basis and dedicated case management in DEP to municipalities with areas designated as a BDA.

In 2006, statutory revisions changed the limits on grants from the HDSRF to municipalities, counties and redevelopment agencies authorized to exercise redevelopment powers pursuant to N.J.S.A.40A:12A-4. The law previously limited grants to those entities to 75% of the total costs of the remediation. Under the changes, grants are authorized to those entities for up to 100% of the costs of the preliminary assessment, site investigation and remedial investigation regardless of the date the application for funding was submitted to DEP. Also, grants are authorized for up to 75% of the costs of the remedial action of a contaminated site for applications received by DEP after September 15, 2005.

In 2007, legislation was enacted that removed the 70% cap on the amount of grant money that could be awarded from the HDSRF which allows projects that were initially approved as loans, to subsequently be converted to grants in 2007.

In 2009, statutory revisions established the Licensed Site Remediation Professional Program which requires any submissions concerning the remediation of a contaminated site to be signed and certified by a licensed site professional or by a certified subsurface evaluator. The new law also established criteria for a ranking system and direct oversight of contaminated sites based upon the level of risk to the public health, safety, or the environment, the length of time the site has been undergoing remediation, the economic impact of the contaminated site on the municipality and on surrounding property, and any other factors deemed relevant by DEP.

In 2018, statutory revisions were enacted to the Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation program pursuant to P.L. 2017, Chapter 353 (approved January 16, 2018). The amendments reduced grant and loan amounts to eligible public and private entities and eliminated certain grants and loans provided by the HDSRF. Excluding the additional monies made available to Brownfield Development Areas, grants to each municipality, county, and redevelopment agency were reduced from $3 million to $2 million per year. The additional funds in the form of grants to municipalities with Brownfield Development Areas were reduced from $2 million to $1 million per year. The annual loan program for a person that is not a municipality, county or redevelopment entity was reduced from $1 million to $500,000 per year. The Innocent Party, Innovative Technology, and Limited Restricted Use Remedial Action grants were eliminated from the program. The total amount of grants for recreation and conservation projects, affordable housing projects, and renewable energy projects was reduced from $5 million to $2.5 million annually. The statutory revisions also enacted time frames for the expenditure of the preliminary assessment, site investigation and remedial investigation funds, otherwise the award will be cancelled. The amendments further revised the prioritization ranking for the HDSRF funded awards, where a site owned by a municipality in a Brownfield Development Area is prioritized before sites in Planning Area 1 (Metropolitan) and Planning Area 2 (Suburban) pursuant to the State Planning Act.

II. Addendum: Funding Categories

As defined in the Act, financial assistance and grants from the HDSRF were provided for the following purposes and obligated on an annual basis in the defined percentages. An additional funding category was also created by the legislation, C.58:10B-25.3, to establish a pilot program for awarding grants to non-profit organizations. Funding for the pilot program is capped at $5,000,000 by statute. The non-profit category is listed as item 7 below because it appears last in the legislation; however, it is reported as item 6 in the above charts to comport with technical aspects of EDA's tracking system.

Funding Categories

(1) Loans to Persons in a Qualifying Municipality: Moneys shall be allocated for financial assistance to persons, for remediation of real property located in a qualifying municipality as defined in section 1 of P.L.1978, c.14 (C.52:27D-178).

(7) Non-profits: The Department of Environmental Protection, in consultation with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority, shall develop a pilot program to award grants from the HDSRF established pursuant to section 26 of P.L.1993, c.139 (C.58:10B-4) to nonprofit organizations described in section 501(c)(3) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. s.501(c)(3), that are exempt from taxation pursuant to section 501(a) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. s.501(a), for the preliminary assessment, site investigation, and remedial investigation of real property that has been contaminated or is suspected of being contaminated by the discharge of a hazardous substance. All of the limitations and conditions for the award of financial assistance and grants applicable to municipalities pursuant to the provisions of the “Brownfield and Contaminated Site Remediation Act,” P.L.1997, c.278 (C.58:10B-1.1 et al.) shall apply to the award of grants to a nonprofit organization pursuant to this section. The total amount awarded pursuant to this pilot program shall not exceed $5,000,000.
