

The Place of Leadership Development in Building an Emerging Offshore Wind Industry

Tolu Omodara

INTRO

- Institutions are critical to an emerging industry, and leadership competencies are crucial for the building of institutions.
- It is important to learn from preceding offshore wind industries, the leadership competencies they have found essential, especially for their emerging phase; and lessons that can be adapted for how, and how not to develop these competencies.

METHODS

1. Case studies
2. Interviews
3. Literature review

DISCUSSION

- Creation
- Contextualization
- Institutionalization
